(Project number: 2022-2-DE04-
KA220-YOU-000098221)

About the project

A.M.O.R. addresses the challenges of the COVID-19 crisis by bridging the social skills gap and digital divide for young people with disabilities and special educational needs. The project empowers educators, trainers, and social workers with accessible, inclusive tools designed to foster active participation and reduce exclusion. By focusing on innovation, A.M.O.R. enhances both formal and informal education, driving youth digitization and social inclusion.

A.M.O.R. Good Practice Catalogue

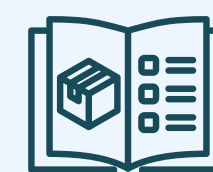

A public resource for youth, social workers, and educators, offering tools, activities, and insights from partner countries. It highlights lessons on skills, methodologies, and inclusive approaches for people with disabilities.
